

Call for Submissions – Indigenous Artist Design

The Alberta Human Rights Commission (Commission) acknowledges that what we call Alberta is the traditional and ancestral territories and gathering place for diverse Indigenous peoples. This includes 45 First Nations and 140 reserves who are subject to Treaties 6, 7, and 8, Métis Settlements and the 6 Regions of the Métis Nation of Alberta, and Inuit who have lived in and cared for these lands for generations. We are grateful for the traditional Knowledge Keepers and Elders who are still with us today and for those who have gone before us. We respect and honour the Treaties that were made on all territories, we recognize the harms and injustices of the past, and we are committed to moving forward in partnership with Indigenous Peoples in the spirit of reconciliation and collaboration to remove barriers and address discrimination.

The Commission is inviting designs for an image (graphic or logo) that represents our commitment to working with Indigenous people to address discrimination in Alberta. With this call, the Commission aims to work with Indigenous artists to create a graphic interpretation that embodies our Indigenous Human Rights Strategy. The image will be used on our website and in other digital and print forms.

Designs will be reviewed and selection recommendations will be made by members of the Commission's Indigenous Advisory Circle.

Specifications and criteria for design

The creations must be developed or led by an Indigenous artist.

The artist with the selected design will be paid $1,000 upon final delivery of the design. The Commission will work with the artist to translate the image into digital form if necessary.

The successful artist will relinquish legal ownership of their design upon signing a contract and receipt of payment. The Commission will have legal ownership of the design. The design may be reproduced in other mediums.

Submissions must be accompanied with the artist's name, mailing address, email (if available), and phone number. The artist may also include a description or interpretation of their submission.

All artists who submit creations will be notified about whether they are successful or not.

The deadline for submissions is May 6, 2022 by 4:30 p.m. to the following:
